

FAQ's

Q: Where do you manufacture your portable buildings?

A: All our buildings are manufactured in our factory in Liverpool.

Q: Can we come and see your manufacturing facilities?

A: Absolutely, we always encourage customers to come and visit us as this gives you the opportunity to see the scale of our facilities and the professionalism of our manufacture.

Q: Do you just supply the building or can you deliver and erect on site?

A: Generally we complete the whole package for our clients. This includes booking the haulage and/ or carnage, off load on site and erection on site as required. [Subject to site survey]

Q: Do you offer a bespoke design service?

A: Yes, all our portable buildings can be totally tailored to your requirements from external paint colours and logos to internal fitments. In truth there is little we haven't done with regard to internal fitting so nothing is likely to surprise us.

Q: How do I connect the building to services?

A: During design of your building we'll discuss with you the various connections required and either you can arrange for electricians or plumbers to be present when the building is delivered to attach the service connections or we can be there to do it for you.

Q: Can I stack portable buildings on site?

A: Yes, our accommodation units can stack 3 or 4 high. (subject to site conditions)

Q: Do you supply staircases for stacked buildings?

A: Yes, we will supply staircases that are tailored to your building requirements.

Q: Do I need planning permission for my portable building?

A: In most cases these are CLASS II buildings and fall outside of building regulations; however we would always advise a call to your local planning authority to confirm.

Q: Are you a member of any trade body?

A: Eldapoint Ltd is a member of the Modular & Portable Building Association [www.mpba.biz] and also a Member of Knowsley Chamber of Industry & Commerce. [www.knowsleychamber.org.uk]
